

The following substances must not be contained in the product:

- Components with a particle size of $< 0,3 \mu\text{m}$ (so-called nanoparticles)
- Molasses of conventional origin (mandatory with list 2022)
- Trace element boli with inert iron for organic roughage consumers are excluded from listing. This does not apply to boli for the purpose of reducing milk fever.

Should one or multiple of the following substances be contained in the product, they must be specified under section 2.5 „Composition of the product“ in the application form.

- Conventional ingredients of agricultural origin (e.g. molasses, herbs, spices)
- Microorganisms
- Additives (must be registered and listed with EFSA)